Reviewing India's Foreign Policy

586. SHRI O.P. KOHLI: Will the Minister of EXTERNAL AFFAIRS be pleased to state:

(a) whether the new realities of the post-cold war era have relegated the concept of Non-alignment to the background and now the economic issues are dominating the world agenda;

(b) if so, whether Government propose to review their foreign policy in this context; and

(c) if not, the reasons therefor?

THE MINISTER OF EXTERNAL AFFAIRS (SHRI I.K. GUJRAL): (a) to (c) The validity and continued relevance of the principles of the Non Aligned Movement were reaffirmed by the Heads of State/Government of Non-Aligned countries at the Summit Conferences in Jakarta in 1992 and again in Cartagena, Colombia in 1995. These were reiterated by the Foreign Ministers of NAM in the Commemorative Session to mark the 35th Anniversary of the Movement held in New York in September 1996. NAM has been particularly conscious of the need to promote and safeguard the interests of the developing countries in the present rapidly evolving international economic environment and to articulate its perspectives. It is responsive to the increasing importance of economic issues in the world agenda. It is also playing a constructive role in promoting both South-South Cooperation and North-South dialogue.

The philosophy behind the Non-Alignment Movement, which supports independence of thought and autonomy of choice, constitutes a central belief of our foreign policy. India has always been closely engaged in the Movement's work, which will continue.
